Create your own 72-hour emergency kit, so you have everything necessary to help you and your family until emergency responders can reach you. If you have time to safely retrieve them, you should also consider other items to take if you evacuate (e.g. family heirlooms, photos, jewelry, computer, phone chargers). You and your family can create a list of items that you really do not want to lose or cannot replace. The list should be taped to the top of your 72 hour kit container, or placed inside it, so you'll find it easily in an emergency. Be prepared, please, for the sake of both you and your family

Fire Insurance - Please read your fire insurance policy very carefully. Some insurance companies limit payments for fire costs (cost to put out the fire, cost for backup and time spent fighting the fire) to amounts below the costs incurred to fight a fire, in which case the homeowner is responsible for the balance. Make sure your policy states that you are covered completely for these fire costs.

Onoway Regional Fire is looking for members of the community who live within 30km of either Onoway or Alberta Beach For more information: Administration Centre: Phone: 1-877-393-7498mily.
